Though retired, we have been busy since I last submitted to the newsletter. I guess it would be more accurate to say the grandkids have been busy and Sandra and I follow them and support their activities.

One granddaughter is active on the rodeo circuit riding in barrel racing events. She will be traveling to Mississippi this summer to participate in the nationals. Another granddaughter is currently at a nature camp in Tennessee.

Two of the grandsons are currently in baseball summer camp (Tommy Hutton Baseball Academy(<http://www.thuttbaseball.com/>). This is a local camp conducted at Roger Dean Stadium, just a few miles from where we live. Baseball is our sport Florida Marlins fans.

Another grandson is big into soccer, and will be traveling to Hawaii this summer to participate in the Region IV tournament in Honolulu, Hawaii, on June 16-20.

(<http://www.regioniv.com/regional.htm>). One grandson has just been accepted on a full scholarship to Oxford to pursue an advance degree in international studies starting this fall. Another grandson is touring Europe this summer. The two youngest grandsons are eagerly anticipating similar adventures when they are a little older.

I'm still active with gardening, photography, music, and as the sunspot cycle improves, I'm again enjoying amateur (Ham) radio ... Call K4CFQ.

Bette Sanders:

After graduating from Auburn, I entered an MA program in international relations at Georgetown, and then joined the Peace Corps (Chile). Later I worked for an NGO in Washington, and taught in a high school in Tuskegee. A chance to teach at Auburn as an instructor for three years made me realize that I should return to grad school. After a Ph.D. in American politics at Cornell, I married Richard Bensel, and we moved to Texas. I taught at Rice University, and then at the New School for Social Research in New York (with a sabbatical year at the Woodrow Wilson Center) before we moved back to Ithaca. We both teach in the government department at Cornell, and have a wonderful, brilliant, exhilaratingly funny son, Seth. I just returned from a conference in China (my first trip to Asia --very exciting), and am resuming work on a book entitled "Presidents, War, and Reform." I continue to devote my thoughts, writing, and energies to peace and democratization, at home and abroad. I am grateful to my teachers at CHS, especially Mrs. Gilbert who taught me to write, Mr. Tillman, who stimulated a life-long fascination with science, and Miss McDonald who led me and my siblings into the great wide world with which other languages allowed us to communicate. And to all the friends I still so fondly remember, please get in touch! I've reconnected with Mary Evelyn, Peggy, Janice, Joyce Ann, Christy, and Ann, but where are Billy Diane Young, and Judy Waldrop?

The time has come for me to tie the knot with Andrea. We have been together for 3 years now and I am not getting any younger even though I still look and act 19 YO...

July 26, 2008 is going to be the date for the wedding. It will be a very small wedding with just family in Birmingham. I wish I could invite everyone of my friends, because I am sure I owe you something for taking care of me at one point or another. Everyone should know I literally have hundreds of good friends that I still keep up with over the years of moving around Mississippi and Alabama. We will still live in Opelika after the wedding.
